Comment:

I have had numerous MSDs filed by governmental agencies over the years and most, if not all, have been denied. they were not brought to actually win but to delay the process for years by filing a frivolous appeal. they have lost all of them as well but justice has been time and time delayed by this wrongful actions taken by governmental agencies as they know there is no merit to their claims. They can always ask for leave. This Court Rule should be adopted to stop this ridiculous step by being taken time and time again. IN fact I know of no MSDs denied that did not get leave automatically asked for.
