Comment:

This proposed amendment should be adopted without question. I've been working in Michigan's criminal justice system for almost two decades and as a state employee for the last eight. The court strives to create an environment of respect, with all parties respecting the court, and the court respecting all parties. This is an easy step that the courts can take toward this end. Not adopting this amendment would make a clear statement that the court does not respect trans and non-binary individuals in the state.
