Comment:

I am totally opposed to introducing "preferred pronouns" into our court of law. I am Catholic and my faith clearly states that God created man and woman. There is only male or female. Science and biology support this. Our country was based on Christian values and our courts should always reflect that. In addition to the natural laws, the addition of these pronouns would cause confusion and disrupt the legal process, taking the attention away from the case before the court and concentrating on a highly controversial subject that shouldn't even be discussed. Please do not allow this rule to be implemented.
