Judges

To the extent the delayed application seeks leave to appeal the August 5, 2024 order granting summary disposition, the application is DISMISSED for lack of jurisdiction. Plaintiff did not seek reconsideration or other postjudgment relief as to that order within 21 days of entry of the order or further time allowed by the trial court. This application was filed more than 6 months after entry of the August 5, 2024 order, and as such, this Court lacks jurisdiction over that order. MCR 7.205(A)(4)(a); MCR 7.204(A)(1).

To the extent the delayed application challenges an October 2, 2025 decision, the application is DISMISSED for lack of jurisdiction. This Court's jurisdiction arises from the entry of a written order or judgment. MCR 7.203(B). No written order was entered on October 2, 2025; rather, that was merely the date of a hearing where the trial court made a verbal ruling on the record.

To the extent the delayed application seeks leave to appeal the November 14, 2025 order denying reconsideration, the application is DENIED for lack of merit in the grounds presented.
