Comment:

There is such a feeling of helplessness that one feels when you play by the rules and still are found at fault. The state government cannot allow federal overreach to do the same to it. Our state must continue to fight the sense of helplessness that it is experiencing. You cannot change a bully, but you can and must change your response to it. Michigan will not be a victim. I support the proposed amendment of MCR8.115 as a response to support our stand against the bully federal government.
