Pursuant to MCR 7.205(E)(2), in lieu of granting the application for leave to appeal, we VACATE the trial court's April 1, 2026 order and REMAND for further proceedings consistent with this order. The trial court resolved defendant's motion to set aside the divorce judgment in a one-sentence order that contains no analysis, without holding an evidentiary hearing, and without stating any reasoning for the denial at the March 30, 2026 hearing where the court instead took the matter under advisement. This is insufficient to facilitate appellate review. On remand, the trial court is directed to conduct an evidentiary hearing, resolve any relevant factual disputes, and issue a decision explaining the trial court's findings and reasoning in adjudicating the motion. The trial court may issue its decision either in a written opinion and order, or by stating its findings and analysis on the record and then entering a written order consistent with its decision.

This order is to have immediate effect. MCR 7.215(F)(2). We do not retain jurisdiction.
